DOUD-WRIGHT.

Waltham Young Lady Becomes Bride of New Haven Man.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alanson G. Wright of Waltham was the scene of a very pleasant wedding on Tuesday evening, February 24th, when their eldest daughter, Miss Grace Hazel Wright, was united in marriage to E. Augustus Doud of New Haven by Dr. John M. Thomas of Middlebury college, the single ring service being used.

At 7:30 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's march, rendered by Miss Marion Jackson, the bridal party entered the south parlor and took their places before an arbor of evergreen from the arch of which was suspended a horseshoe in white. Leading the way came the ring-bearer, little Ruth Wright, sister of the bride, daintily attired in white, followed by the groom and groomsmen, Carlton McNeil of Charlotte, and a classmate at Randolph, Miss Ardelle Wright, as maid of honor and the bride escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage.

The bride was prettily gowned in white brocade crepe de chine and carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor in pink crepe de chine and carried pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony the gates of the arbor were opened and the newly wedded took their places within, where they received the congratulations of the guests. The dining room, decorated in pink and green, was presided over by Mrs. A. L. Roleau and Mrs. C. A. Jackson and dainty refreshments served by the young women of Sigma Kappa fraternity of which the bride is a member. The entire chapter of the local college were present and assisted in receiving, and enlivened the occasion by their songs and sorority greetings to the bride. Miss Wright was a member of the class of 1912 of Middlebury college and is the first one of the Nu chapter to be married.

The newly-married pair were the recipients of many choice gifts, including substantial sums of money, silver, cut glass, china and linen.

After a merry leave-taking amid showers of confetti, they left for Middlebury and for a short wedding trip to points in Massachusetts after which they will reside at the fine old Stowe-Doud home on Town Hill.

Among those to attend from away were Miss Addie Wright, Miss Helen Hendee, Mrs. C. A. Jackson and daughter, Miss Marion Jackson of Burlington, Carlton McNeil of Charlotte, Miss Bessie Cudworth of Bristol, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Boyce and Theron Gregory of Middlebury, and friends from Panton, Vergennes and New Haven.

Woman's Auxiliary Meeting.

On Monday evening the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. held their last open meeting of the season. The affair was in the nature of a reception at the pleasant home of Mrs. F. C. Dyer, the large company present included many invited guests beside those gentlemen, who are associate members of the society.

The evening program was in charge of Mrs. J. E. Weeks, president of the auxiliary. Miss Marguerite Dyer rendered a fine piano solo, after which Dr. J. M. Thomas delivered an address of unusual interest, his subject being "The Country church."

At the close of the program the ladies served refreshments of cake and ice cream which, with a social hour, completed the events of the evening.

The next regular meeting will occur on March 16, and it is expected that Judge J. E. Weeks will then describe the work for boys in our State institutions.

This auxiliary is endeavoring to raise money and hold meetings that will prove sources of aid and inspiration in the work of the Y. M. C. A. here.

Vote For Direct Primary.

At the March election the voters will find two propositions on the ballot. The first of these is the question of a preferential primary. This is a method of directing some delegate to do your business for you at a convention. It is closely akin to the present caucus system. It is, as the Bennington Banner states, a humbug. Do not vote for the preferential primary.

The second proposition is the direct primary, a wholesome idea. The direct primary system means that the voter will be able to go to the polls and vote directly for the persons whom he wishes to be placed in nomination on his party ticket. It is a better and a safer way than to tell another person to vote for you. Under the preferential primary you instruct a man to vote for your candidates at a convention somewhere. Under the direct primary you vote for your own candidates in your own town hall. Vote "yes" on the second proposition, the direct primary.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Alson N. McQuivey, who has been ailing for some time at her home on Foote street, died about 1 o'clock Saturday with heart trouble at the age of 55 years. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Leeds of Stamford, Ct., who arrived home only a few hours before she died, and three sons, Gordon of Middlebury and Merrill and Arthur McQuivey of Wendell, Idaho.

The funeral was held from her late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. A. A. Lancaster, pastor of the Congregational church of this village of which she had been a devoted member, officiated and the burial was in the Foote street cemetery. The bearers were Homer Cobb of Cornwall, Gordon McQuivey, Benjamin McQuivey, George Galvin and Solomon Aines of Middlebury and Charles H. Leeds of Stamford, Ct.

Asa Hemenway, who had been ill for several weeks at his home on Court street with a complication of diseases, died about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the age of 82 years. He is survived by his wife, one son, Leroy Hemenway of Philadelphia, and three daughters, Mrs. Fred Crane of Bridport, Mrs. C. J. Nash of New Jersey and Mrs. C. M. Carrigan of Philadelphia. Mr. Hemenway was born in Bridport and lived there until about 10 years ago, when he moved to Middlebury. Mr. Hemenway was one of Middlebury's most highly respected citizens and during his residence here made many friends. The funeral was held from his late home on Court street Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock and the burial was in Bridport. The bearers were Frank J. Hubbard, Arthur H. Bristol, George W. Rose and John L. Slafter.

James Ward, who has been visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. M. Hanks, on South street, died Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock at the age of 80 years. He had been sick but a few days. Mr. Ward was born in Ireland and came to this country when a young man. He lived in Middlebury about 20 years, going from here to Lincoln, where he resided about 40 years. During his residence in that town he held various town offices. He married Miss Alice Coughlin of Middlebury, who survives him. He also leaves a daughter, Mrs. C. M. Hanks of Middlebury and a grandson, Mathew Ward Whalen of Brandon. The funeral was held in Bristol this morning at St. Ambrose's church at 10:30 o'clock and the burial will be in the Bristol cemetery.

Chauncey H. Stewart, formerly of Charlotte, died at his home on Washington street Tuesday afternoon. He was born in Weybridge, March 17, 1829. He had spent many years in Illinois and Iowa and for the last 25 years he had lived in Charlotte and Middlebury. For the past 12 years he had been in poor health. He is survived by his wife, Mary Elizabeth Stewart, and a nephew, Frank Bacon of Waltham. The funeral was held from his late home Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock and the burial was in Weybridge.

Mrs. Susan Brown, widow of George R. Brown, died at her home in Ripton Tuesday noon after an illness which lasted less than a week of pneumonia, aged 77 years. Mrs. Brown was born in Middlebury but spent the greater part of her life in Ripton. She is survived by five sons, A. N., Edson G., W. B., A. W. and George R. W. Brown, and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Butterfield of Lincoln, and one sister, Mrs. E. M. Tolman of Fitchburg, Mass. The funeral was held Thursday noon in Ripton with burial in that town.

Missionary Association Meeting.

On Thursday afternoon the Missionary association of the Congregational church held a meeting in observance of the day of prayer for home missions. This was an inter-denominational gathering and the program was conducted by members of the different societies represented. There was a large attendance and great interest in the work discussed was manifested. A pleasant feature of the program was the singing of two solos, "My Redeemer", and "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," by Mrs. Ralph Denio of Bristol. At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Middlebury Inn Changes Hands.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sargent have sold the Middlebury Inn, which they have conducted for about a year, to Mr. and Mrs. Cassius Bosley of Middlebury who will take possession on March 28. This is the third hotel which Mr. Sargent has purchased and practically rebuilt in this town during the last 30 years, the other two being the Logan house on Park street and the Sargent house on Court street.
